

OFFICE OF FINANCIAL AID: RELEASE OF INFORMATION

Starting with the 2024-25 academic year, Federal Tax Information (FTI) submitted with the FAFSA by the parent, student, or spouse, will be protected under Internal Revenue Code as well as Higher Education Act rules. As a result, colleges will be restricted on when and how tax information is shared.

With written permission, a college may redisclose tax information to scholarship granting organizations, or to an organization that has been designated by the student to assist them in the application of Federal, State, local or tribal financial aid, that would be used to cover any component of the student's cost of attendance.

Please note:

- 1. Written permission is on a case-by-case basis, with the student specifying who may receive the information (person, department, agency).
2. Even with written permission, a college may not redisclose tax information for any purpose other than the application, award or administration of financial aid.
3. A student may request a copy of their Student Aid Report, which includes FTI as disclosed for the FAFSA

FAFSA information, other than FTI, will still be governed by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) rules. This information includes:

- Personal and demographic information
•Manually entered/provided income and asset information
•Federal Pell Grant Eligibility (Yes/No)
•Student Aid Index (SAI)

Please complete the following only if you want the Office of Financial Aid to disclose information related to your federal, state and/or institutional financial aid awards, including your Federal Tax Information (FTI) disclosed under 6103(I)(13) of title 26.
